A FREE INSTITUTION IN A FREE COUNTRY

the narva 1941

. . . . .PRESENTED WITH SINCERITY BY THE STUDENTS OF PARK COLLEGE , PARKVILLE, MO.

a gay book,
a free book,
uncommonly
friendly book, in which we try to set forth democratic Park College
as it is, so help us.

without Benefit of formality

We would like to present Park College, not as it compares with other colleges or institutions, but as it is amazingly similar to only one place on earth—Park College.

You are invited to come along as we meander here and there over the campus following typical students through their day at Park College.

We've tried to make this a representative book including as many of the students and faculty as possible. Of course, some of their activities are much more photogenic than others, so it may not appear to be all-inclusive; but we all appreciate privacy now and then.

You will see pictures of people, places, things, and stuff. For the most part, we'll let you interpret them for yourself, but lest you become a bit confused we'll just tag along and make a few comments here and there. Ready? Here we go!

ESSENTIALLY CHRISTIAN

the will to do as well as to know

Our generation is finding that life is not a broad, smooth highway stretching out before us, but rather, it is a narrow, rough trail that seems to wind into nowhere. Living is no easy task in these troubled times. One needs character, courage, and Christian revelation in order to travel such a difficult road. There must be the will to do as well as to know.

Park students are learning by doing. Ideals of scholarship and labor go hand in hand in Park life. The school motto, "Fides et Labor," embodies the spirit of the school—an appreciation for learning and the dignity of labor. Our "Family work" plan rewards initiative and teaches students how to work. Not only do we come to college to learn of truth and knowledge but also to apply this truth and knowledge to everyday living.

What could be more valuable in times like these, when democracy faces its challenge of strength and security? In truth, we are living "life abundantly," for we are learning by actual experience. With this type of background our journey along the highway will be a smooth one, for we indeed have learned the art of creative living.

DR. WM. LINDSAY YOUNG

A T R I B U T E

In this hectic period of the world's history a new social order is arising and education must adapt itself or perish. In keeping with his ideas of world progress and education, Dr. William Lindsay Young has endeavored to keep Park College out of any social vacuum and to eliminate any tendency to "sit on the bank and watch the stream flow by." We must get right into the middle of the stream.

While keeping a keen eye on the future, Dr. Young hasn't forgotten the essential element of Christianity which is necessary to undergird the strength of not only our school but our nation and world. In this swiftly moving machine when the aesthetic values of life are being forgotten, he has maintained the teaching of the finest of the fine arts—the art of living.

While burdened with his many campus activities, Dr. Young found time this past year to act as leader of more than five million people of the Presbyterian faith in guiding them through one of the most trying periods in the history of the church. As moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., he has brought the name of Park College to people in every corner of the U. S. and Latin America. He has been a leader that the world admires because of his sincere convictions and fearless criticism of anti-Christian trends in this chaotic world. Admiration extended to Dr. Wm. Lindsay Young is also admiration for Park in having such a president.

Yes, Dr. William Lindsay Young has been laying the cornerstone for a towering Park College of the future.

We all know that it is the men behind the scenes that makes the show a success. These men who have been behind the scenes for many years are the ones really responsible for the Park that we all know. Their long and faithful service has kept, and will continue keeping, Park on top through these difficult times.

Date .....

M .....

Please see me at the Dean's office at your earliest convenience.

W. J. Sanders

That little notice in your box requesting that you visit the Dean of the College may bring a quirk of the conscience and apprehension of a dreadful fate. But that visit often turns out to be just a pleasant conference with Dean Sanders, congratulating you on your achievements or just becoming better acquainted with you.

Dean Sanders is recognized as an outstanding leader in the field of education. On the campus he is known for his capable guidance of the affairs of the college and understanding of the students' problems.

EXECUTIVES

HAWLEY

We are all acquainted with the hearty personality of Dr. Hawley and the work he has done. Park will always bear his influence and remember his fine, courageous leadership.

The men who handle the finances are most vital in promoting the success of such institutions as Park College. Mr. D. M. Knight, the business manager of the school, has handled Park's money problems for many years. Mr. Knight serves also on the Board of Trustees, and was active in the stabilization drive of 1939. Not only has he proved himself invaluable as the college financier, but he has been the primary factor in promoting friendliness and cooperation between the students, the work, and finance departments.

THE DEANS

Does your club want to schedule a picnic for Friday night? Do you want to go to the city with a date? Do you have some problem that you need advice about? Then the person that you want to see is Mrs. Baxter. Her friendly smile and charming manner puts you at ease and enables you to discuss your problem freely with her.

Dr. Cannom's sincere interest in the student establishes a bond there that few administrators know. And if you are acquainted with Mrs. Cannom and the little philosopher of the family, David, you can understand why Dr. Cannom seems happy most of the time. Of course those haggard lines in the morning only mean pleasant hours spent pacing the floor with David—giving him crooning lessons, don't you imagine?

MRS. HAZEL BAXTER

DR. CHARLES W. CANNOM

Every individual needs the help of a guiding hand. It has been the aim of the W. S. G. A. to extend the help of such a hand to the women of the campus, by setting before them a code of rules including suggestions for proper conduct on and off the campus. Better wear hose to dinner, girls.

How many does it take to make a quorum? Shall Parker House have one-half a vote or a full vote? Why give Terrace as much representation as Woodward? What will be the outcome of all this wrangling? The answer is self-government for the men of the campus, a worthwhile experiment.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

President Beckelhymer

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to what he has been thinking about all winter—the student body election. With the hum of party machines and the whir of propaganda, our attention is acutely centered on the student council.

This year our president has been Hunter Beckelhymer, a forceful speaker and fine leader. Reuben Corbin, vice-president, and Betty Sloan, secretary-treasurer, are the other elected representatives. Janet Clark, Jack McClintock, and Harry McKittrick are the members chosen from the student assembly.

The student council this year has been very interested in revitalizing the student council Constitution. This will set the stage for a future body that will be a real force in representing the students' opinions.

AND HOW IT GOT THAT WAY

Politics on Park Campus is as fast and furious as modern blitzkrieg warfare. Pamphlets are everywhere, distributed in the commons and dormitories and even floating down on the gentle breezes. There are stump speeches that one can't help but hear because a P. A. system has a way of commanding attention. Though perhaps not exactly orthodox in its manner of organization, Park politics is a real battle royal.

Dr. H. G. Parker

Comes the revolution—this year at Park a new system of work has begun. Everyone knows that Park has always been democratic and progressive in its family work ideas and its belief that "he who eats must work," but this year there was a reorganization in an attempt to make the work program more efficient and on a par with outside industry.

Under this new order, Dr. H. G. Parker, former head of the Chemistry department, was made Dean of Industry and general coordinator of the work program. This new system has as its aim the supplementing of the students' academic education with actual vocational training and at the same time placing more responsibility on the student, thus improving the character of the work in most cases.

The education of the student is broadened by giving him a chance to develop the skills he prefers. He can be transferred as often as convenient, so that he receives wide experience in various types of work such as in the kitchen, laundry, office, printshop, departmental assistantships, heat plant, etc.

It is the duty of the general superintendents to organize their work units and make one of the student workers foreman of the gang for a certain time. This gives the students responsibility and teaches them to cooperate under their colleague's leadership.

There also is a new arrangement in the recording of the student's time. The student records the work he performs each day and on the work done he is given an efficiency rating by his foreman which in turn is approved by the supervisor. This efficiency rating is to be permanently recorded just as scholastic grades and will be sent out with the recommendations to all future employers, thus giving the students an incentive to attain a work record of which they may be proud.

Familiar to all freshmen who trudge the path from Woodward or Chestnut is the old stone bridge, known to old grads as the "spoon-holder." It was a favorite hand-holding spot then, and it stood for many long years as a symbol of other days. Now it has at last given out and has had to be reconstructed.

Those McMasters twins really look industrious, don't they? But don't let looks fool you; it's a very carefully posed picture. And don't ask which is which. Just do as the rest of us do—call them "Mac."

The opening of the "Skyline Room" of "Hotel Chestnut" was a gala occasion, an atmosphere of gaiety under a clear, starry sky. The girls did a marvelous job of decorating for their party, and not only of the dorm.

The Copley steps under six inches of snow are very lovely. But woe be unto he who ventures to ascend or descend the deceitful steps without the necessary pillows correctly distributed about his anatomy.

All that Lab. equipment had to originate somewhere — and this is where. Paul Riley, just putting the finishing touches on a new rack.

A lovely scene dear to all Parkites is the view down Mackay steps, out over the sloping Chapel lawn, the stately Elm on Park House lawn, and the hazy “Old Missouri” in the distance.

Better watch the Copley windows, fellows; snowballs have a way of picking them out.

“Coo Coo College” was certainly an appropriate name for this senior party. If you had seen Prof. Clements and Coach Cannom putting the students through their paces you would understand why.

They call it Food Chemistry. And don’t be fooled by the odor. Mary Lou is actually concocting some delicious new recipe—but I refuse to be the taster.

AT RANDOM

CLASS OF '41

We are nearing the end of the road after four full years at Park, years filled with work and play, joys and sorrows. We are prone to look back on the way we have traversed, perhaps with a bit of sadness in our hearts. How long ago it seems when, in 1937, we arrived on the campus as "raw" freshmen, lonesome and homesick. Do we now appear as dignified and unapproachable to the freshies as the seniors of that time did to us? I wonder!

Many changes were made in the policy of the school during our brief stay here. We alone are left to tell of the five day week, of the taboo on dancing, of the burning and reconstruction of the Graham Tyler Memorial Chapel, and of rigid social rules. With our passing all these things will be forgotten. We know that we have lived through four eventful years of Park history. We hope ours has been a worthwhile contribution.

HARRY SIMMONS

Salutatorian
RUTH COLVIN

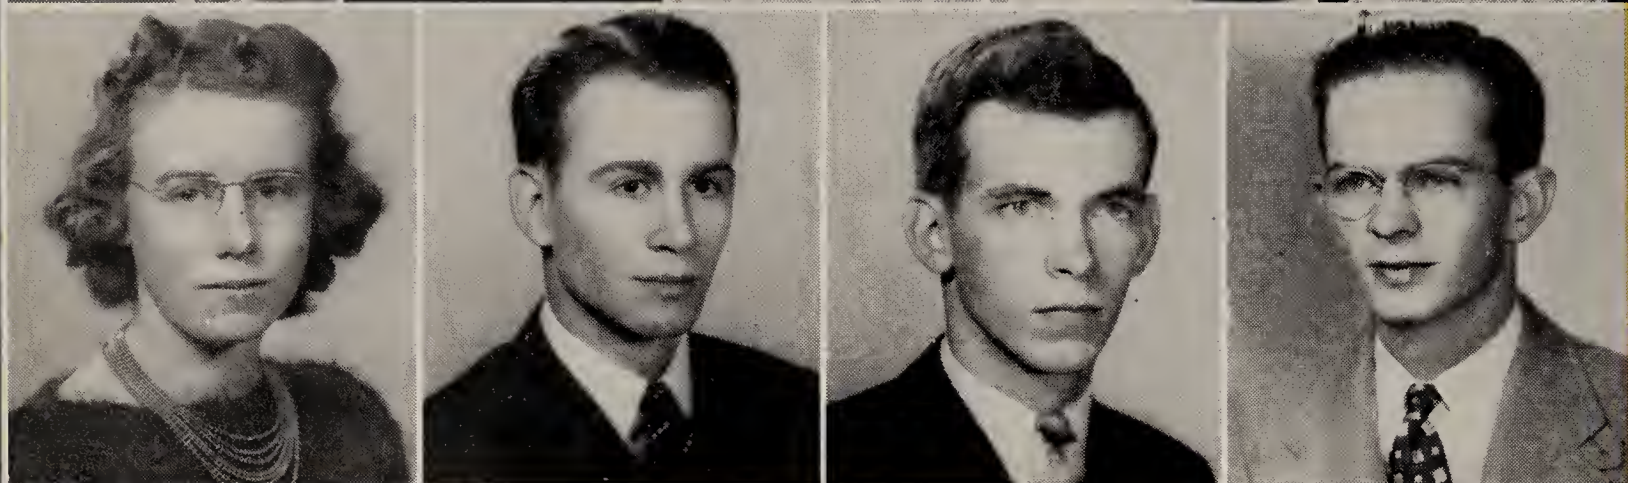

After a hard night spent dealing with infinitesimally small fractions, Dr. Crull announced to the Dean the names of those to be honored at the top of the list on Commencement day. The winners—Harry Simmons and Ruth Colvin.

Four years of hard work, with perhaps a few sacrifices for the sake of lessons, have been rewarded by highest graduating honors—Valedictorian and Salutatorian.

Knobnoster

"C" Section

Happy is the word for this "Y" group. They're all-round kids—good contributors to Park's "pep-life."

Only "C" section fellows could pack a room that way. They're pretty typical—carefree and happy, but give them time—soon they will be seniors.

No slam is meant by the fact that Marko's picture appears with Park's intellectuals, but we must admit that he's well educated, being a junior this year.

It must be the pipe. Nothing else could bring that serious look to Shedd's face. There is a rumor that it might have been a book. But don't spread it.

THERE

Don't look now, but Darry is having trouble. It seems that someone transported his car down there on a magic carpet and lost the wheels; odd, isn't it?

No use Al, those gals mean business. All's fair in love, war, and the Sadie Hawkins day race. God helps him who helps himself—to the nearest tree.

Nothing like a little relaxation between sentences, say Craig and Ken. According to laws of psychology that helps you remember what you read a lot better, that is, if you read anything.

If you started to count those and all the other steps, you would need an adding machine.

Lose something, Darry?

PARTIES

Park's social life has developed a real personality within the last two years. Here we have representatives of two groups of social activities enjoyed by the students. The inset pictures company night in Herr House—in other words, the Herr House party. This splendid affair set the pace for all the other house parties of the year.

The Belle of the Ball? Yes, of the Lowell-Lucerne "Sweetheart Ball"!

Miss Edmunds steps through the heart to receive the evening's crown of glory. This ball was one of a series of parties sponsored by the social clubs. The Parchies and Callios ushered in the season with the "Parchie Varsity," featuring both program and dance. It was a big success and set a difficult mark for the other clubs to shoot at with their parties. The Orions and Auroras capped the season with an informal "Swing-Dig."

A N D S U C H

Three gracious coeds—a queen and her ladies, no less. These charming girls presided over the big midwinter, all-school event, the “Holly Hop.” The “Holly Hop” is only representative of a series of important social events sponsored by the Social Committee.

This committee, whose business it is to plan and supervise such activities, tries to plan a social program that will meet the needs and desires of the majority of the student body.

The Copley party began the social season with a smash hit radio program. The upper-classmen sponsored a show featuring music by Jimmy Garner and his Parkkollegians. “Hot Lips” Schoggen is just giving out on a tender little ditty called “Scrub Me, Mamma, With a Boogey Beat.” Copley broke precedent this year by deciding not to have their open house with the house party, but rather to wait and put on a real open house. At the open house it was said Copley was cleaner than it had been in years.

PARCHEVARD CLUB

As the Parchies contemplated the club program for this year they found themselves facing three distinct problems, a need for a revival of club ritual, interest in club social activities had waned, and there was a void in the social training of the men of the campus.

Now at the close of the year the club can proudly show how these problems have either been solved or started in the right direction. As for the need for more club ritual, the Parchies have adopted a new ceremony of induction of new members, stressing club loyalty and fellowship.

In attempting to restore the social program of the club to its proper importance, a move was made to shift to the clubs a share of the responsibility for the all-school social program. The "Parchie-Varsity," celebrating the 45th anniversary of the founding of the club, was the initial step in that direction. The Parchies and Callios joined in presenting a musical revue and dance featuring club talent and the Parkollegians.

To remedy the lack in social training for the campus men a series of practical lectures on "Every-Day Living" was presented featuring prominent Kansas City authorities.

Thus the members of Parchevard hope that they are taking part in the development of a new and increasingly important era in club life.

CALLIOPEAN CLUB

Rush Week was hardly started before every freshman knew that the Callios were the girls that were informal, friendly, full of pep, and ably guided by their popular president, Essie Earnshaw.

In speedball the Callios made a brilliant start by winning the championship with a team combining "old reliables" and "young bloods" from the freshman class. Then to cap the athletic season they decisively defeated both other teams to take the softball title.

When the Callios joined with the Parchies to celebrate the 45th anniversary of their club's founding, the result was the "Parchie Varsity," the first show of its kind to be given by any of the clubs.

At the beginning of the second semester the "Callio Cur," club mascot and official ward of each succeeding club president, moved up to third floor Herr House to be with Yvonne Theiss. Yvonne capably led the Calliopeans until all that was left of the school year was the memory of good fellowship and the faint echo of the Callio girls answering a Parchie serenade with

"True friendship always—Purple and Gold."

ORION CLUB

The swish of formals in the gay fiestic "March of Stars" drew into the Orion club a talented freshman crew, setting the course for an eventful year.

The words athletics and Orion have become practically synonymous this year. Except for Cross Country the Orion string of victories has run nearly unbroken. With softball and track the only remaining events, and the Orions looking strong in those, it is pretty safe to say that the Orions are by far the strongest athletic club of the year. Green and white became the predominant color on the athletic field as shoes met shins in the battle for Soccer laurels. An undefeated team chalked up a new star in the Orion Nebula. In basketball a rather unpredictable "A" team footballed their way through to win the Whipple trophy for the second consecutive year. Green in every sense of the word, but successful in an undefeated season was the Orion "B" squad.

Rounding out the year in true Orion style, the brother and sister clubs presented a big show and dance under the title of the "Swing-Dig." It featured a battle between the sweet and swing, and songs by a new quartette.

Ending the year as it came in, the chant still rings, "Over hill, over dale, as we hit the old Park trail, the Orions are leading them on."

AURORA CLUB

Have you ever stood on Observatory Hill in the gray morning and watched the rays of the rising sun chase each other across the sky? Have you ever been at "Alfalfa Point" and watched the morning star linger above the "old Mizzu," reluctant to be cast down by a more powerful source than itself? If such has been your experience, it is not difficult for you to realize the significance of the name a group of Park girls chose for their club in 1913. Aurora, goddess of the dawn, bearer of the light that illumines the world.

The Aurora club has furnished her quota of leaders in ever phase of the social, religious, and scholastic life of the campus. At any athletic battle the O. A. C. girls can be seen on the sidelines cheering their brothers to victory for the green and white.

After a buffet supper in the club hall, a snake dance downtown, and a feed at lake Hawley, the climax of "rush week" was reached when the Auroras and Orions entertained the freshmen at a formal party and dance in the conservatory, the first formal of the year. During the year the O. A. C. club hall provided many an evening's entertainment.

The Aurora-Orion clubs have always been known as the clubs that "meet the test." The club spirit is characterized by the chant, "On Aurora, Onward Go!"

LOWELL CLUB

The name Lowell symbolizes many things that its pledges hold high. The letters themselves aptly express the true spirit of the club.

L—Loyalty to the school and to each other.

O—Omnipotence to soar to new heights under the "Blue and Blue."

E—Education in sportmanship and scholastic fields.

L—Leadership in social activities and sports.

L—Love for our sister club, fellow members, and the memory of our founder, Lowell Mason.

After a well worked out rush week program the Lowells plunged into a full year of social and athletic events. Never once since the start has the social responsibility of the club been forgotten. There were feeds—serenades—friendly gatherings on the steps of Mackay to harmonize on the Lowell songs—and the crowning event of the year, "The Sweetheart Ball." Under soft blue lights and with a huge blue heart as a backdrop, the Parkollegians announced the queen with the new Lowell song, "Sweetheart of the Blue and Blue," written by John Bercovitz.

Many of the members are graduating this spring and will be sorely missed. But they will leave a job well done and others into whom they have instilled the spirit of the Lowell club.

LUCERNE CLUB

With an informal mid-morning lunch and the traditional tea with its roses, silver service and formal reception, the freshmen girls were welcomed by the Lucerne club. A few weeks later, in Cheever Hall, by candlelight, the girls became part of the club, now well-integrated and strong.

The dark brisk autumn evenings or warm spring twilights which were so conducive to friendship, found Lowells and Lucernes joined on Mackay steps for informal sings. Jollity and a feeling of belonging crept into each heart as the melodious songs were wafted over the broad valley of the Missouri. The group blended harmoniously with the Lowell-Lucerne hymns.

The club stood out in all fields. In basketball a team of old and new members cooperated to take the championship. The elected Sweetheart stepped through the delicate blue heart at the "Sweetheart Ball" to be crowned queen of the Blue and Blue. The memories of many events are preserved and recorded in the traditional scrapbook which the Lucernes are proud to have in their possession. Lucerne loyalty and good cheer live on through Blue and Blue!

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

Can you imagine a group of college intellectuals gathered around discussing such weighty subjects as the relative merits of Fascism, Nazi-ism, Communism, Socialism, and 'whatever other "isms" are prevalent at the time? Well, that's the Philosophy club. And the beauty of it is, when you have such gracious hostesses as Mrs. Cannom and Mrs. Young, you can expect some such repast as a sip of cider and pie a la mode. Now that's food for thought!

EL CLUB CERVANTES

Not only does the Spanish club present the opportunity to practice the language, but even more important, it aims to develop international mindedness and a closer relationship among the nations of the Western Hemisphere. Toward this end the group studies the songs, customs, and particularly the folk dances of our southern neighbors. These they presented to the student body in a gala Pan-American Day program, and in exchange programs with other colleges. Anyone interested in Pan-Americanism is welcome.

THE STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

Student Volunteers, the religious pulse of the campus, have presented a year of vital programs to the student body in their Sunday evening services. The programs consisted of missionary speakers and members who gave interesting accounts of summer's work in Settlement houses and mission fields. The majority of the members of this group are also active in the other religious organizations on the campus. The Sunday evening Student Volunteers service is a fitting amen to the day of worship.

MU SIGMA

The Mu Sigma club seeks to encourage an ever increasing interest in music as an integral part of the social life of the campus. Its members are chosen for their outstanding and consistent contribution to the musical life of the campus. There are two outstanding events which are sponsored by the Mu Sigma: the Gorden Felts Memorial Award Scholarship contest; and the music contest which is held graduation week between the social clubs. The club has had capable leadership this year under Virginia Bateman and Martha McCormick.

DEBATE

Park enters but one field of inter-collegiate competition—forensics. But if the results in that one field are any indication of probable success in other fields, Park would be a winner.

Park has been outstanding in debate and oratory this year. A large share of the credit for this success goes to Carl Dallinger, coach of the squad. He was fortunate this year in having a large debate squad from which to draw his material. The numerous freshmen and underclassmen in the group assure continued success next year.

Pi Kappa Delta, honorary speech fraternity, is composed of students who have done well in inter-collegiate competition.

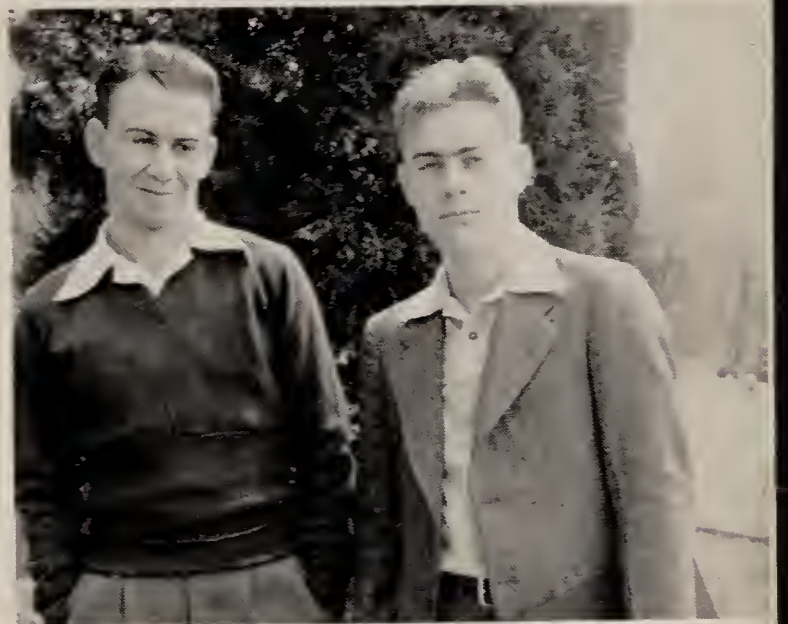

Park competed in six tournaments and 97 inter-collegiate debates during the year. At the Mid-West tournament Schrader and Clark, senior women's team, were undefeated, and Montaldo and Spier, junior women's team, won three out of four decisions. Both senior teams went into the final rounds at the Mid-South tournament. Spier and Montaldo were one of the two undefeated teams at the state tournament. At the State, Dorothy Schrader took first in women's oratory and extemp. speaking and Rex Scott came out second in men's oratory.

It was at the recent Pi Kappa Delta Provincial tournament that Park won its highest honors. The senior men's team of Beckelhymer and Nelson rated superior, taking first place; Dorothy Schrader rated superior in oratory, extemp. speaking and poetry reading; Rex Scott rated superior in oratory and excellent in extemp. speaking; and the senior women's team rated excellent. Park carried home the plaque for first place as a symbol of their sweeping victory.

BAND AND ORCHESTRA

While wondering just what should be said about the Park Band and Orchestra we asked Neal Butcher to tell us about some of the trips and concerts. Here is the description he gave us:

"The roll has just been called and we are off for Kansas City in the yellow school bus. Upon arriving at the high school we are shown to the auditorium. The bell rings and into the auditorium pours the thundering herd. We don't know whether all the excitement is caused by the rare opportunity of hearing our music or the equally rare one of skipping their favorite class. At any rate, after elaborate introductions, Dr. Rader takes his place and the concert begins. We play Bizet's "Intermezzo," Haydn's "11th Symphony," "Poet and the Peasant," and a number of other selections including some of Dr. Rader's own arrangements and compositions. After the concert we are taken to the high school cafeteria and served an excellent lunch. Then homeward we go—hoping to miss our fifth hour class."

THE PARKOLLEGIANS

For the first time in history, Parkites enjoyed a full year of dancing to a band of their own. The Parkollegians of 1941 were able to achieve success through the energetic efforts of the "Paul Whiteman of Park," Jimmy Garner, lead sax man and director of the group.

Exactly six times this year Jimmy gave the boys the down beat. Beginning early in November with the "Holly Hop," they climaxed the season by sponsoring the "War Benefit Party." Throughout the year the Parkollegians have proved to be a large factor in a successful social program.

For their unhesitant cooperation, consistent color and corn, and—well, one dog-gone solid bunch of "Hep-Cats"—we sincerely doff our bonnets to the Parkollegians.

COLLEGE CHOIR

To the stately prelude, the white-robed choir marches slowly down the aisle and takes its place in the Chancel. Then when Dr. Griffith takes the stand and directs them in the anthem, even those studying in the back row stop to listen and exclaim. Then the A Cappella choir, usually seated in the balcony, rings out with the Hallelujah Chorus. This choir, besides singing here in the Chapel, made several trips to other churches and presented concerts. They made one three-day trip to St. Louis and sang there before the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.

CELEBRITIES

Park students have enjoyed the best of lectures and entertainment this year. Traveler, autograph seekers, pianists, dancers, judge, mayor, and war correspondent, we've had them all. The new course offered last semester, Municipal Administration, brought a number of interesting lecturers on city government, and our student enterprise fund made possible several features such as the Graff ballet.

Bryson Jones presented a very interesting group of pictures on his travels about the world.

Hugh Hodgson's visit to the campus provided entertainment and inspiration to those interested in music.

Cornelious Vanderbilt, Jr., gave us some inside information on European troubles.

CAMPUS VISITORS

Rev. William A. Young, graduate of Park and son of Mrs. Nickel Young, was Religious Emphasis week speaker, and an interesting one.

Mayor Gage of Kansas City poses with Dean Sanders before his lecture to the Municipal Administration class. Mayor Gage opened this series of lectures.

the narva 1941

HARRY STILES, Editor and THOM HUNTER, Manager

Have you ever begun a job without any knowledge of how to go about it, and knowing that the only person who could teach you is yourself? Well, that's the NARVA staff of '41. We have learned by doing the job. We've experimented, revised, and changed, until we are satisfied that the 1941 Narva is a book worthy of Park College—we hope you like it.

Perhaps the biggest headache of the job has been the advertising. The first Business Manager, Ernest Stouffer, left school to join the army. Darral Freund took over and worked for several months. Then, early in the second semester Darral found that he was carrying too heavy a load, what with flying and all, so he turned the books over to Thom Hunter. Thom took the job of getting nearly all of the ads for the book in about two months' time. The figure for advertising set in the budget was high, higher than in previous years, and the time almost gone. But Thom did it, and more. He not only reached the goal, he pushed on to a comfortable margin. So, if you like the book, remember that Thom and those from whom he solicited made it possible.

Photography has been a hard nut to crack, too. Although we purchased a new camera this year we still lacked a photographer.

During the first semester Dave Nelson devoted a lot of time he could ill afford; the second semester Pat Donovan and Bob Chung stepped in and helped a lot in getting the necessary pictures. Meanwhile, yours truly, the Editor, learned how to manipulate the contraption and chased down a good share of the shots himself.

For Art work we have been fortunate in having fine talent right here on the campus. Phil Wigg drew all those division page illustrations. Neal Butcher sketched the figures on the Drama page, and Lillian Jones dashed off the cartoons on the Student Council and Representative Athlete pages.

While we think of it, if you discover any grammatical errors, please give all credit for same to Tom Hinde. His job was tracking those criminals down and exterminating them.

The Board of Publications, composed of three students and five faculty members, supervises all student publications. Miss Lyon, Chairman of the board, is always a willing helper in solving the riddles we bring to her.

THE PARK

Tuned to feel and record the pulse of the student body, the Park Stylus has, through the year, mirrored campus life. In its columns have been recorded the humor, the drama, the immature wisdom, and the day-by-day actions characteristic of the "folk on the hill."

Written and edited by students, and published with the aid of students the Stylus is truly a student publication free from faculty censorship. As a tabloid of student opinion it has, the editors hope, been free from bias. Although at times its voice has been raised in loud protest, the end in view has always seemed to justify the means used. When the Stylus voice has been off pitch, the staff has appreciated the constructive criticism of its readers.

During the first semester Phil Gurney performed the editorial duties with the assistance of Jeannette Corn. Their efforts were awarded a second class honor rating by the Associated Collegiate Press.

STYLUS

SCOOPS

At the turn of the year the staff was reorganized to provide more efficient work in all departments. Headed by Everett Porter, the new editorial staff consisted of Alice Skillman, Technical Editor; Gordon Lewis, News Editor; Pat Donovan, Sports Editor; and Johnny Miller, Feature Editor. Especially faithful members of the volunteer staff have included Marjorie Rosay, Jean Brown, Joyce Crosby, Bruce Anderson, Lucile Moe, Ted Nicholson, and Forrest Stevenson. Howard Anderson, Mickey Sharp, Gertrude Hastie, Marvin Lipman, Phil Wigg, Paul Femmer, Betty Coleman, Esther McLeister, Mary Ann Hudgens, Gene Persello, George Mason, Waldo Burger, and Virginia Pierce are some of the periodic contributors whose interesting items have appeared in our columns.

Without the services of Paul Sherwood, linotypist; Bob Thorpe and Phil Wigg, typesetters and compositors; and Sherman McGrew, pressman, the Stylus could never have been published. With his superior craftsmanship and careful attention to detail, Mr. George W. Grattan, superintendent of the print shop, has been an invaluable aid in maintaining the high standards of the Stylus.

Always ready to provide needed information as well as valuable advice, Dr. William Lindsay Young, Dean W. F. Sanders, and Miss Ethel Lyon, Chairman of the Board of Publications, as well as other members of the faculty, have co-operated wholeheartedly with the staff.

Financial guidance has been furnished this year by Ross Brown and Dar Pond. While Ross was responsible for the books and ad getting during the first quarter, Dar has had the task of balancing the budget since that time.

Never have said anything about Jack Everett and Betty Sloan, but then when the rest of you get as good at keeping out of sight as they are, there won't be any column like this. . . . We put on four extra reporters when we heard that the staff of the "Y" Book Exchange was being disrupted, but it's Al right now, ain't it, Winnie? . . . Hats off to Prexy who brings us more and better publicity than a hundred men in a tub . . . Mystery unsolved—the maestro who labeled the new dorm . . . Third floor Copley had its annual swingfest the other night and a good time was had by all (with exceptions); Porter, Hill, Smith, and Corbin can give warm accounts of it—Another kind of swingfest on the same floor finds Moskau beating the skins in typical Krupa fashion . . . The Sunset girls are hiking home a little early these nights as a result of hiking home a little late nights past; Ethel Metheny, president, leads the culprits in . . . Congrats to Ginny Hogland for coming back and bringing smiles to the Pond pan . . . If this column was ever printed the way we write it you'd get all the dirt!

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Did you have your fingerprints taken? Have you wondered who takes charge of the flag seeing that it is put up and hauled down every day? Then you have been aware of the presence of the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity. This group of fellows has succeeded in reviving the Iota chapter of the fraternity and has made it one of the most active chapters in the state. The club has taken over the old Alumni Association office in the Alumni building and plans a really active program for the future.

SCIENCE CLUB

You don't have to be a scientist, an interest in the world about you is all that is necessary to benefit from the program of this club. Under the guidance of their president, Harvey Gissell, they have brought to the campus several interesting movies and lecturers on such scientific subjects as the weather, animals, a Power and Light exhibit, and several others. This club, composed of science majors and interested students, has made a definite contribution to the campus.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

To foster true sportsmanship and to further interest in athletic activities as a means of promoting health, scholarship, and good fellowship, is the purpose of the Park W. A. A.

This year the club was made up of a few old members and a large group of freshmen. Their sponsor, Bobbie Clements, alias Mrs. Swanson after May 5th, and Shirley Gresham, club president, have worked out a full program of girls' sports. One of the most popular events sponsored by this club was the W. A. A. feed out at Lake Hawley. The steaks put up a valiant fight but were downed easily.

ZETA KAPPA EPSILON

Zeta Kappa Epsilon, honorary history fraternity, completed its tenth year on the campus this spring. Limited in membership to juniors and seniors of high scholastic achievement, its name divulges its objectives; Zeta for research, Kappa for a spirit of world citizenship, Epsilon for honorable distinction.

It is the ambition of the fraternity eventually to become a national organization for the stimulation of scholarship and interest in historical knowledge.

ENGLISH CLUB

Fourteen years ago a small group of students interested in literature and creative writing organized. Out of this small beginning grew the present-day club called the English club. Today, just as then, the students gather together at least once a month and read aloud their original poetry and short stories. At the close of the year the club publishes the booklet, The Scribbler, which contains many of the best original poems and short stories. The club has been kept alive under the capable leadership of its sponsor, Miss Ethel Lyon.

ALPHA THETA PHI

Alpha Theta Phi is an honorary Home Economics Society for junior and senior girls who are majoring in Home Economics.

This year there are thirteen members with Miss Lorimer and Mrs. Baxter sponsoring the organization. Mary Milligan is the club president.

The purpose of this organization is to develop a well rounded personality, to provide experience and leadership in carrying responsibility, to attain social training and poise, to foster high ideals of an appreciation for home life, and to further professional interest in the field.

THE Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A.

The "Y" is a vital force in the activity program of the school. One of their biggest jobs is freshman orientation. They take it upon themselves to meet the freshmen, guide them to their dorms, provide them with an upper-class campus brother or sister to "show them the ropes," sponsor Thursday night "Bull Sessions" and "Interest Groups" to discuss campus problems, and a reception with the faculty. And this is but a small part of the activities of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. on the Park campus.

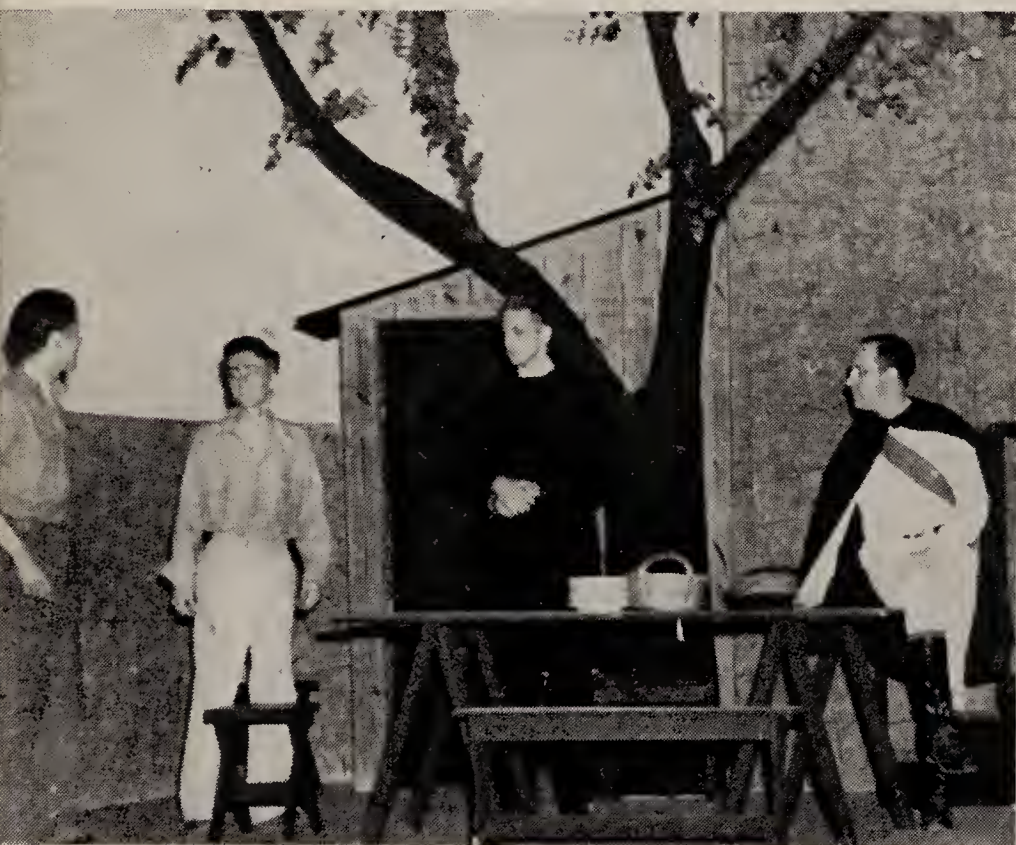

The leaders of the "Y" this year have been Allen VanCleve and Gladys "Shorty" Meyer. That these two are Park's personality king and queen is more than just a coincidence. That spirit of leadership, friendship, and a real interest in the problems of all the students has been the spirit of the "Y" all year.

The dramatic department has achieved some outstanding successes this year. These successes may be attributed to the integrated work of the entire department which includes the stage crew, the property managers, the make-up crew and the directors. As a result of the efforts of the individuals on those committees of production, the entire student body and faculty have anticipated the dramatic productions with a great deal of interest and have packed the conservatory on the nights of production, receiving them more than enthusiastically.

C O N T A C T

Ten Park students have been taking ground school instruction in Navigation and aeronautics under Dr. Crull and Dr. Rogers and flight training in Rearwin 90 horse-power training planes at Fairfax airport.

These students, Paul Armentrout, Reuben Corbin, John Cory, Betty Davis, Harold Davis, Darrel Freund, Harvey Gissell, Fred Lunn, Bob Martin and Walter Mills were chosen from the numerous applicants for their physical fitness and scholastic standing.

Park is very fortunate in having the unit. Dr. Crull hopes that next year, in keeping with the defense program of pilot training, Park will be allotted another unit. This will enable more students to take this training.

Several of these student pilots have been so affected by this flight training that they hope to go into some phase of commercial aviation. Darral Freund left school early in order to join the Army Air Corps.

We might also mention that Dr. Crull is one of those bungling trainees that has made all of those crazy turns and dips out here over the campus, and he wasn't showing off either.

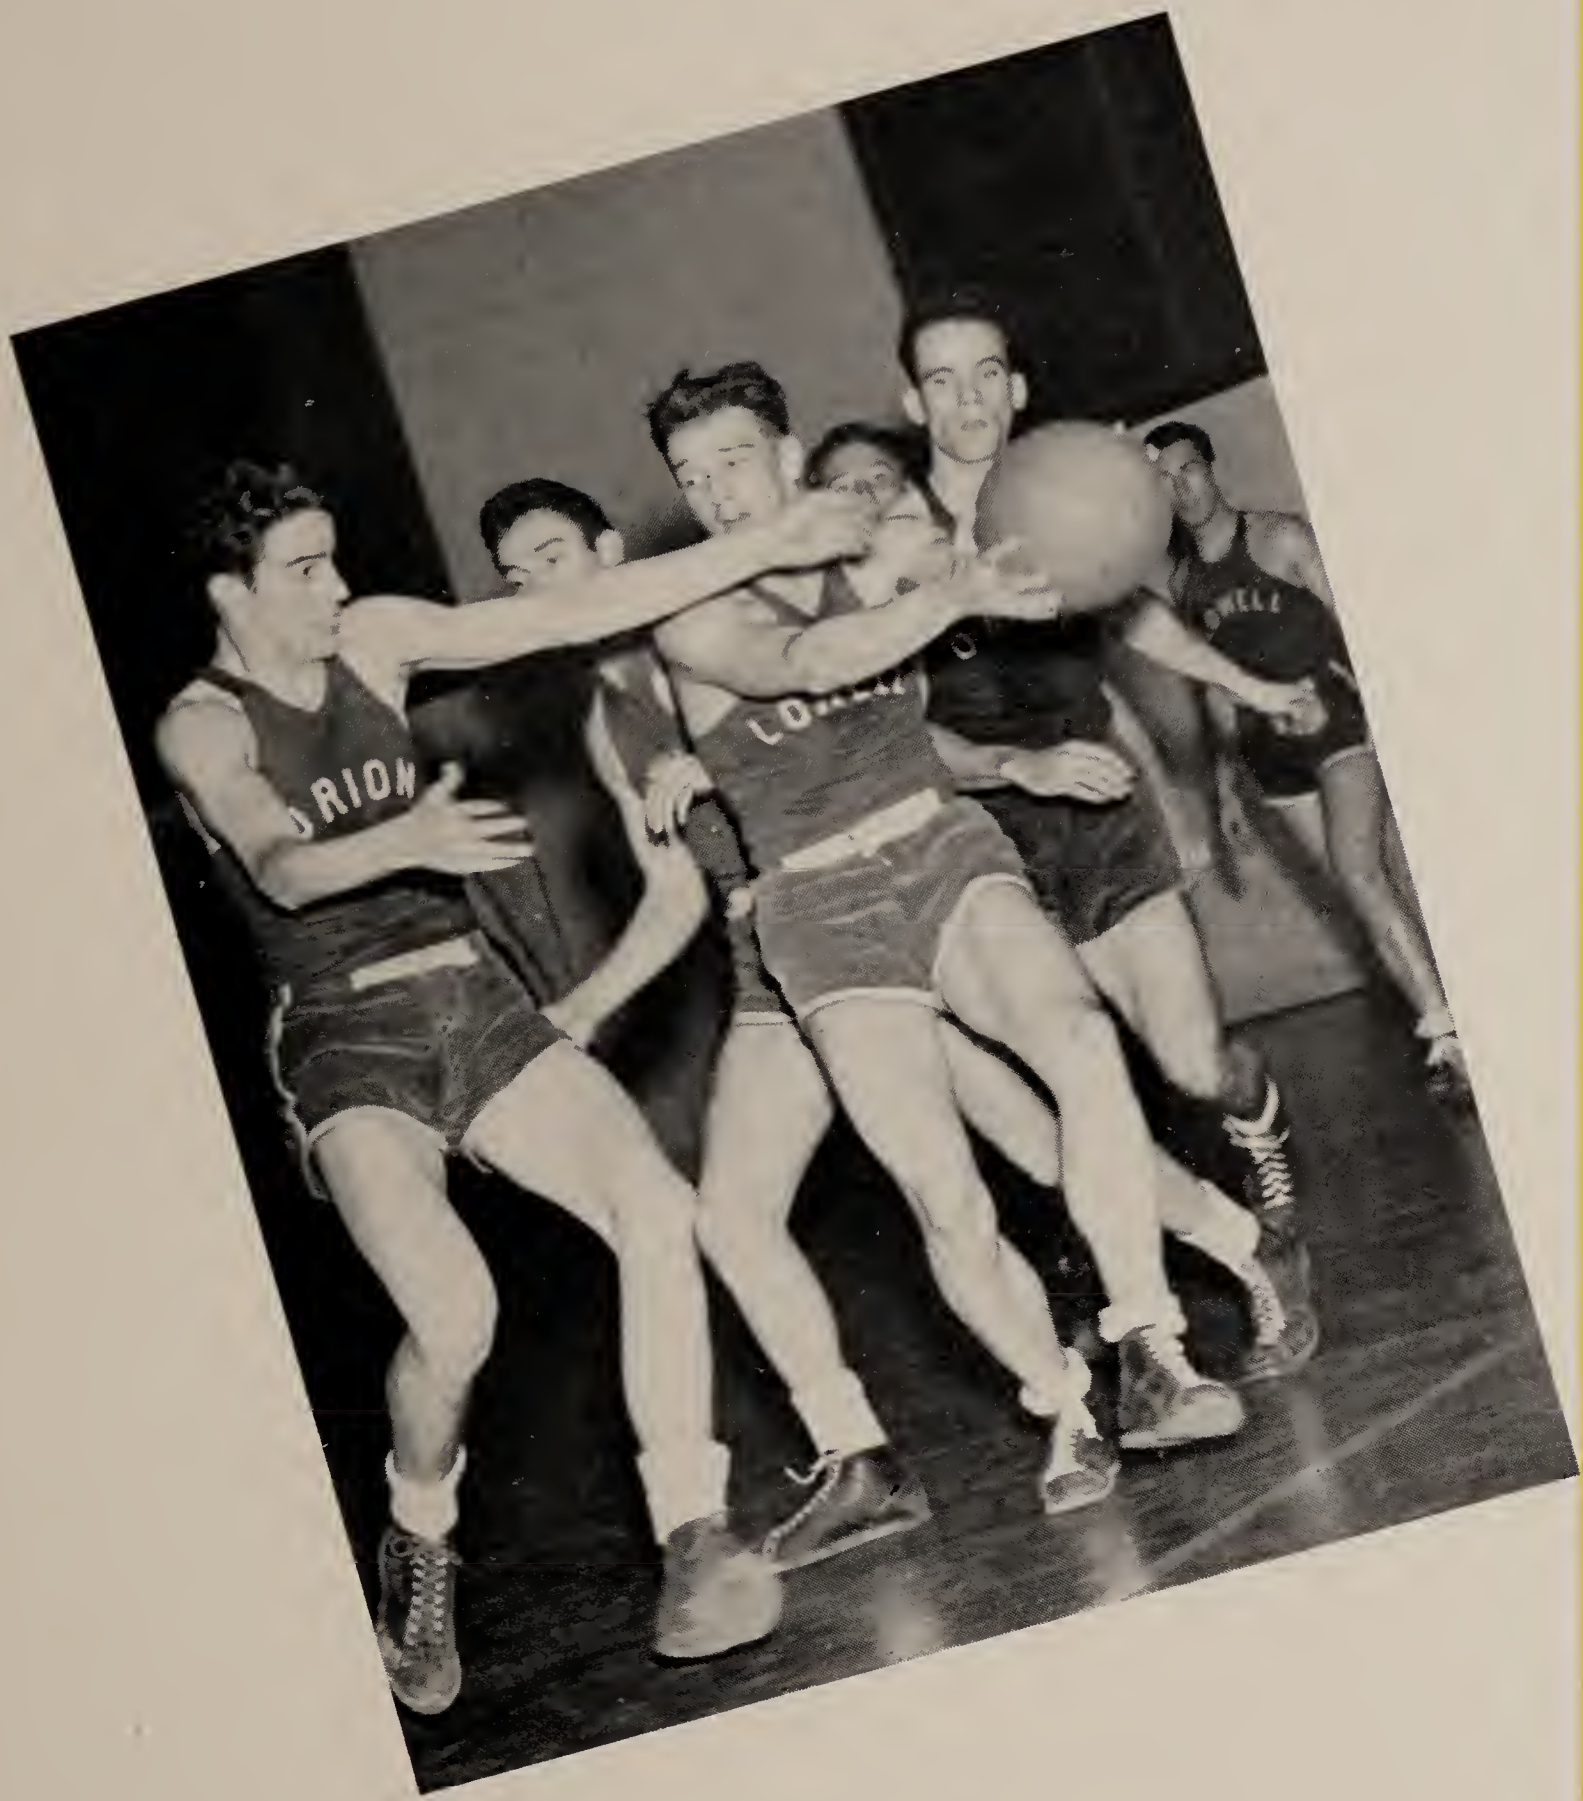

Park students really have fun at initiation time—especially the upper-classmen. It looks like a song rendered by one of the McMasters in the picture top left. Next, we see Ted Hamory paying someone honor. Be careful, Bob Chambers, or you'll drop those notebooks. Whose are they, by the way? Hmmm, bet it's property of some beautiful upper-class coeds. Well, well, what's this? We thought this was a page representing the Freshman initiation antics. Looks mighty like Sophomores to me. What's the matter, fellows? On the wrong end of the rope?

REPRESENTATIVE ATHLETES

Reuben Corbin, Lowell's most dependable and versatile athlete, stars particularly in track, with dashes his specialty. He is also prominent in soft ball, made the All Star team in soccer, and plays basketball. He is known for sportsmanship and courage.

George Johnson is the Orion ace of the basketball court, and nearly all other sports. He made the All Star teams in soccer, basketball, took two firsts in track and prominent in all other sports. George is president of the M. A. A. and this is his second appearance as representative athlete of his club.

Harry Stiles, fiery star of the Parchies, has contributed much to the fighting spirit of his team with his constant pace-setting drive. He participates in all major sports, earning his sweater in soccer, basketball, volleyball and soft ball.

These athletes were chosen by the members of their clubs as the most representative of the spirit and athletic prowess of that club.

Valiant is the word for Mary Arnold, the jack-of-all-sports of the Auroras. She is the guiding spirit behind nearly every sport, taking part in speedball, volleyball, basketball, and baseball. Although she does not always make the All Star teams, she is usually one of the cooperating team members that help to win.

Shirley Gresham, fast and capable Callio, is president of the W. A. A. She stars in nearly every sport, basketball, speedball, volleyball, and baseball. She piloted the Callio basketball team through their tough season this year and nearly brought them through.

Janet Clark, cool-headed and quick-thinking Lucerne pushed her basketball team to victory over great odds. Janet is more than a leader or an individual star. She holds the team together, working together. She will pass the ball rather than shoot. She has All Star records in basketball, speedball and volleyball.

We will stick our necks out and mention a few others that seem worthy of mention. Dan Thomas, playing his last year, was outstanding in soccer. He also led his team to victory in the "B" team basketball series. El Booth and George Mason are two Lowells that deserve mention. Chuck Edwards, sturdy Parchevard, is a real asset to any team.

S O C C E R

"Did you see him hit that ball with his head?" "My! How do they manage to handle that ball so easily with their feet?" Ouch! Did he ever sit down hard!" Such are the comments of spectators at a soccer game. Park's substitute for football is as rough as football, as fast as basketball, and it requires as much skill as either.

An Orion team led by Dan Thomas marched to overwhelming victory in spite of a predominance of freshmen players.

Their fine spirit of cooperation and driving force showed them to be the team to beat from the start.

Soccer this year was not up to the usual standard. All three teams were handicapped by having a majority of new players in the line-up. The first few games were very rough and did not show promise of a good season at all. But practice and the experience of a few games improved the quality a great deal. There were a number of injuries this season that badly crippled the teams.

Both the Lowell and Parchie captains suffered injuries that kept them from the final games. There were numerous other sprained ankles and bruised shins. It is hoped that next year will be a much better season with a lot of the roughness eliminated due to experienced players.

Dan Thomas was voted to captain the All-Star team for the second time. Dan is a versatile player, deceptive dribbler, and a fine leader of his team. Cardenas, deft left wing for the Orions, makes his second appearance on the team. Webb, unapproachable Orion goalie, Trett, hard-hitting fullback, and Johnson, fleet-footed halfback, complete the Orion members of the first eleven.

Buchanan, cool fullback, McClintock, captain of the Lowells and a fast forward, and Mason, are the Lowells on the team.

Edwards, a solid halfback hard to get by, Gissell, alternating between goalie and half, and Stiles, driving center forward and captain of the Parchies complete the first eleven of the All-Star squad.

In addition to the first eleven are six others who get minors and are on the All-Star squad. These are Schafer, Orion; Corbin, Lowell; Morrow, Parchie; Luse, Parchie; Box, Orion; and H. Anderson, Lowell.

The Callios placed the largest number on the All-Star team with five. They are: Bette Yoakum, Lurlene Irwin, Callio captain, Eloise Todd, Shirley Gresham, and Margaret Mason.

Margaret Baker, captain of the team, and three other Lucernes, Margaret Nesmith, Janet Clark, and Lilian Jones, are the representatives of that club.

Mary Arnold and Faye Evans, Auroras, complete the team.

SPEEDBALL

"Say! Those girls aren't a bit lady-like, are they? Why, they'd just as soon run over you as look at you." And that's about right. Speedball is no game for the weak of heart. Those girls may be the light and airy misses on the dance floor, but on the field they mean business. So look out! You've been warned.

The Callios ran rough-shod over the other two teams this year. They came through the season undefeated and only tied once, that the first game of the season, and before they had hit their stride. With Brunner and Gresham standing off the offense and Mason plugging the goal—well, other teams just didn't have a chance to score. Halfbacks Storm, Demaree, Todd, and Corn pushed the ball down the field and forwards Theiss, Irwin, Yoakum, Nicoli, Smoot, and Hitchcock pushed it over the goal for the tally.

BASKETBALL

Park's chief sport is basketball. There is really spirited competition between the clubs in this sport. Park's intramural system of athletics does not produce basketball on a par with larger colleges or universities; but it allows thirty fellows to participate instead of ten. Basketball is one of the chief contributors to club loyalty. What would incite a whole club of boys to going without shaving for a week—what but a basketball game?

This year there was an attempt to even further the student participation in athletics by having a "B" team series between the clubs also. Although this did not draw interest of the students as well as the "A" team series, it did give some fellows a chance to play that they otherwise would not have gotten.

The Orions made a clean sweep of the series this year—taking both the "A" and "B" series. Although the Parchies gave them a tough battle right up till the end, the Orions easily plowed them under in the play-off game to the tune of 37 to 23.

The Orions, captained by the fast-dribbling, accurate George Johnson, played rather inconsistently, but managed to come up to expectations in the final game.

The games this year were ragged and rough. The refereeing was not the best, but conditions made it very difficult to call the games very closely.

The Parchies started the season with a beautiful slump—losing their first two tilts. But they came back strong. Sneaking up on the leading Orion team, they tied them in the last round, only to return to their early season form and drop the play-off game. Duke Crawford led the team in their daring fight for the title.

The Lowells were handicapped by a lack of seasoned players. Mason could not play because of work, and Corbin often had class on game nights. So Booth and Hutchinson were the only old players on the line-up steadily. Booth spearheaded the Lowell drive and managed to trounce both the other teams once—and to scare them badly all the time. The McMasters brothers helped the Lowells on defense and Moskau's height was a threat under the bucket.

ALL STAR MEN'S BASKETBALL

Here we have the cream of the crop. They are the ones chosen from the thirty players engaged in club basketball to stand as the College varsity team. We won't mention the incident about their being defeated by a team chosen from the rest of the players. We'll just grant that they are tops.

George Johnson, in his fourth year on the team, was chosen captain. His teammates DeRuyter and Hill were also among the first eight. Hill, Orion forward, was a constant threat with his tricky left-handed shots. DeRuyter could usually be counted on to drop in at least a couple.

The Parchies were represented by Malan, Hodges and Crawford. Malan, one of the outstanding players of the year, was a consistent ball-handler and fine cooperater. Hodges was a dead shot from nearly any place on the court. "Duke" was a steady man on the defensive, feeding it in to his forwards for the scores.

Booth, deceptive guard, and long-range expert, represents the Lowells on the first five. Clyde McMasters, another tricky left-hander, brings the total of freshmen on the squad to four—more than any other class.

That fellow trotting to the tape with no one anywhere near him to challenge his lead, is Carroll Hall finishing the Cross-Country race in new record time. Carroll, an Orion, ran the very hilly course of about two and one-half miles in fifteen minutes, fifty-eight and one-half seconds. Max Malan came in second, Wilkins third, Webb fourth, Gissell fifth, Atwood sixth, and Filson seventh. The Parchies, taking second, third, fifth, seventh, and tenth places, won team honors. The picture of the start shows how difficult it was to place in such a race.

That group of girls there is the girls' All Star basketball team. We haven't said much about girls' basketball, but rest assured there was a very closely fought season. These girls, Virginia Sessler, Callio; Janet Clark, Lucerne; Eleanor Reed, Aurora; Ann Mangiaracina, Lucerne, and Shirley Gresham, Callio, were chosen as the outstanding players of the year.

OTHER SPORTS

Griffith drives them across with such dazzling speed that Filson couldn't take the championship from him. Edwards and McClintock fight it out in the Low Hurdles. Riley, Durst, and McClintock wait for the gun in one of the dashes.

The Orion Volleyball team gets set for a spike. They manage to return enough of them to win the series.

Brown and Booth shake before the championship match. Don't ask who won, they haven't played it yet.

SOFT BALL

The soft ball season is not over as we go to press. But it looks very much like another death struggle between the Parchies and Orions. The first round ended with the Parchies ahead, and undefeated. But the Orions have a good team. Nelson, their pitcher, has a wicked speed-ball that has the boys dazzled, and their infield looks pretty good. The Parchies have had good pitching so far by Luse, captain, and Elmer, freshman hurler. But it is a little too early to make any predictions at all. The Lowells, captained by Howard Anderson, have good material and as soon as they get a little more practice they may be the team to beat. They also have a heavy hitter in Booth, shortstop, and a smart all-round payer, George Mason, captain of last year's All-Star team.

With all these possibilities in mind, permit us to predict—it's still anybody's ball game.

Beauty

If you spend your Sundays doing the same thing the rest of us do, then we don't have to tell you about the lovely creatures Milton Caniff draws for his cartoon strip, "Terry and the Pirates." And, as we can see in the picture below, Mr. Caniff draws from live models—Nice work if you can get it!

At any rate, Mr. Caniff, well known illustrator, had a very difficult time choosing the queens from the candidates submitted. We are quite glad that the job was not ours—and hope that his decision will be satisfactory with you.

The three candidates from each class were Mary Elizabeth Fleming, Marie Moeller, and Florence Green from the seniors; Lila Lane, Shirley Edmunds, and Pat Sullivan from the juniors; Mary Slabotsky, Virginia Hoghland, and Barbara Shultz, sophomores; and Jean Wolfe, Mary Jane Rankin, and Doris Bassett, Freshmen.

From these were chosen one from each class. The senior queen is Mary Elizabeth Fleming, whose charming smile and lovely voice we all admire. From the juniors we have the quiet charm and upturned eyebrows of Lila Lane. The sophomore queen, Mary Slabotsky, has a vivacious, sparkling personality as well as lovely features. Jean Wolfe, freshman queen, whose — but why do we need to say all these things—the pictures speak for themselves.

WHO'S WHO

Ten students, seven seniors and three juniors, were chosen by the junior and senior classes to be Park's representatives in the "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" for 1940-41. This group is the largest ever to have been selected from the Park student body.

They are Hunter Beckelhymer, Janet Clark, Ruth Colvin, Eleanor Laughlin, Gladys Meyer, Dorothy Schrader, Dan Thomas, Phil Gurney, Harry McKittrick, and Harry Stiles.

IT IS

Gladys, better known as "Shorty," Meyer, president of the Y. W. C. A., president of Zeta Kappa Epsilon, and quite a long list of other achievements, was chosen by an overwhelming majority of the student body to rein as queen of personality on Park campus. Her picture tells why.

CALLED Personality

Allen Van Cleve, Minnesota boy, came to Park as a sophomore. He has been president of his junior class, Lowell club, and the Y.M.C.A. Al's baritone voice and flashing smile stand out in any group. Anything else you can say about personality you can say about Al.
